The DuPont Australia & New Zealand Innovation Awards are now calling for entry into the 2010/2011 Award Program. Please register your intention to enter now by visiting: www.dupontinnovationawards.com

DuPont is again recognising and rewarding innovation in industry, science, the environment and agriculture with its 2007/08 Australia New Zealand Innovation Awards. Since their launch in 2004, the awards have showcased cutting edge innovations from a range of industries, many of which have gone on to achieve global commercial success. This year the Awards introduces two new categories to reward sustainability through energy & services. Independently judged by some of Australia and New Zealand’s most respected business leaders, the awards have come to represent high achievement in industry, science, the environment and agriculture.

WHO SHOULD ENTER
The Awards recognises a single business or collaboration from Australia or New Zealand, that has developed an innovative product, technology or service from any industry, first ordered and/or adopted for commercial use in Australia or New Zealand between 1 January 2008 and 31 March 2010.

The Awards also recognise Tertiary Students. Entry into The CSIRO Young Innovator Award is open to a tertiary student (under or post graduate) who has designed an innovative technology, product or service in any of the award categories while studying between 1 January 2008 and 31 March 2010. These entries are not required to have been commercialised and may still be in their design stages.
